Smith Smithsonian interns (Deborah Ault, James Carter, and Madeleine Keenan).

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Doris K. Wylie Hoskins Archive for Cultural Diversity (DHA) contains a diverse array of materials documenting African American history in Champaign County and East Central Illinois. Doris K. Wylie Hoskins collected and assembled her archives throughout her lifetime. The date range for the archive's content is 1861 to 2010. The "bulk dates," or date range for most material, is 1930 to 2000. The collection consists of multiple material types including scrapbooks and loose photographs (originals, reprints, and photocopies) of prominent African American individuals, families, and organizations. Additional materials include newspaper clippings, pamphlets, handwritten notes, published and unpublished works, and oral history tapes and transcripts with information pertaining to area churches, health centers, musicians and bands, African American-owned businesses, and historic events.

BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARY

Doris Keana Baker (Wylie) Hoskins, was born on October 18, 1911, in Champaign, Illinois, and passed away in September 2004, in Champaign, Illinois. She was married to Lorenzo Wylie until his death in 1976, and later married Eugene D. Hoskins. A devoted wife and mother of 10 children, Hoskins worked for the University of Illinois for 25 years in personnel services, and taught reading and secretarial skills at the Urbana Adult Education Center.

A tireless community advocate and leader, Hoskins was an active member of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Champaign, Illinois, and involved with large number of the civic organizations in Champaign County. Her affiliations include Mathew House 18, the Provena Covenant Hospital Auxiliary, the Champaign County Historical Society, the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), Senior Health Insurance Program (SHIP), Parent Teacher Association (PTA), and National Council of Negro Women. She served on the Citizen's Advisory Committee to the Board of Education and Urbana Park District Advisory Committee. Serving as the group's archivist, Hoskins also served on the Committee on African American History in Champaign County at the former Early American Museum (now Museum of the Grand Prairie), and edited the African American newsletter, Through the Years.

Hoskins' work in the community earned her the Studs Terkel Award from the City of Urbana and the Book of Golden Deeds Award from the local Optimist Club. She was also honored by the YMCA, RSVP, Provena Covenant Hospital, Green Meadows Girl Scout Council, and Points of Light.

ARCHIVAL HISTORY

Throughout her lifetime, Hoskins collected and assembled her archive. Her work was especially driven by her service with Committee on African American History in Champaign County. The archive in its entirety was personally transferred to Cheryl Kennedy, Director of the Early American Museum (now Museum of the Grand Prairie) in 2004. Kennedy loaned the archive to the Museum that same year and then donated it in 2011. To preserve original provenance and collect additional information, Deeds of Gift and oral histories were sought from individuals known to have specifically contributed material to Hoskins for the archive. Shortly after arriving at the museum, interns inventoried the archive and created an initial detailed finding aid. Two previous episodes of cataloging and organizing were initiated by the museum but not completed. During the summer of 2016, a new cataloging and organization system was developed and initiated, including digitization. This new system also requires a new finding aid. Wherever possible, the information from the initial finding aid is retained. Every attempt was made to retain and reestablish original order, though not successful in many areas

ORGANIZATION

The basic organization framework established by Hoskins is retained wherever possible, including her system of using series and folder titles to organize and file her archive.

Archival material has been rehoused in archivally safe document boxes and folders. Within the boxes, folders are arranged according to series and folder title. Hoskins' original order is maintained wherever possible and practical. Cataloging occurred at the folder level, with each record containing a brief itemized inventory of the folder's contents.

Some three-dimensional artifacts and books exist within the archive. They are cataloged as such and rehoused within the museum's permanent collections as necessary for proper preservation. Artifacts and books are associated with an established series.

This organizational system is duplicated digitally in Past Perfect Web Museum software, which also manages the digital images from each folder, artifact, and photo.

ADDITIONAL WORK

Several additional conservation measures should be taken in the future. The archive has a significant amount of newsprint. These items should be rescanned at a higher resolution and photocopied onto archival paper. The photocopy should replace the newsprint and the newsprint be discarded. Many documents are folded. Where possible these documents should be unfolded and rehoused as necessary. Photos are also interspersed throughout the folders and should be rehoused. Several items appear clearly out of order, but were left as found, because it is unclear if this was a rehousing error or the original order received.

CONTROLLED VOCABULARY

Artifact - Three-dimensional object artifact.

Biographical Sketch - Brief summary of a person's life.

Newspaper clipping - Original or photocopied segment removed from a full sheet of newsprint.

Note - Informal typed or handwritten

Publication - Stand-alone bound document or photocopy originally intended for distribution (i.e.. book, booklet, pamphlet, etc.).

Military Record - Various documents related to an individual's military service.

FINDING AID SEARCHABILITY

This document is searchable by subject or keyword. In Adobe Acrobat, press keyboard shortcut "ctrl" and "f" to enter your search terms, or the Find Text icon magnifying glass icon in the tool bar. For other PDF file readers, use the applicable text searching feature.

CONTENT LISTING

1. Biographies, Men

Series, Biographies, Men consists of handwritten notes, newspaper clippings, pamphlets, photographs, administrative records, typed written notes, unpublished works (biographies), oral history materials, and correspondences. The files contain biographical information about African American men in Champaign County collected by Doris Hoskins in preparation for the This Legacy is Yours, Too exhibit in 1999 at the Early American Museum (now Museum of the Grand Prairie) in Mahomet, Illinois. Files of special note include: The Jonas Taylor and Jess Ward file containing Ward family history as former slaves, and Jesse Ward's experience in the Cairo Flood of 1882 as well as the John M. Smith file containing an oral history transcript on the horse showman, John Smith, and the Announcements files with newspaper clippings featuring announcements for weddings, retirements, anniversaries, and funeral services (including obituaries). Other files of note include the Lee Family file consisting of articles on Albert R. Lee's service at the University of Illinois President's office, the Nelson family file, and Biographies of Brushy Fork African American Community file with materials on the first black settlers of Champaign and Douglass Counties. Additional key individuals highlighted include jazz musician Raymond Scott, Taylor Thomas (U of I faculty), and James Wilson as the first African American Track coach.

2. Biographies, Women

Biographies, Women consists of newspaper clippings, photographs, unpublished works (biographies), correspondences, oral history materials, and family papers documenting the histories of African American women who have lived in Champaign County. Doris Hoskins collected the biographies and other materials in preparation for the This Legacy is Yours Too exhibit in 1999 at the Early American Museum (now Museum of the Grand Prairie) in Mahomet, Illinois. Some of the highlights include biographies of early African American settlers in Champaign as well as urban renewal and public housing history, and the involvement of area women in Civil Rights events (such as protests against segregated housing and anti-job discrimination rallies). Other subjects include African American students at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and the establishment of community and church organizations such as the Douglass Center, Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church and Salem Baptist Church. A few selected files of note include the Mary Alexander file discussing her involvement in the Champaign-Urbana Civil Rights Coordinating Committee's opposition to public housing and Urban League of Women voters, the J.C. Penny Co. Store boycott, the Hattie Marion file discussing Marion's memories of her mother's quilts, and the Mildred (Smith) Jones file containing an autobiography that discusses race relations in 1929 in Mound City (Southern Illinois).
